The Turnu-Severin airport is located on a plateau 40-50 meters high, above the valley of the Danube, in the northwestern part of the city of Turnu-Severin. It is located at the end of the highway which leads to the water pumping plant. The terrain is covered with grass and has good drainage so that it can be used even on rainy days. The airport serves the scheduled flights of the TARS Company (Rumanian-Soviet Air Transportation) on the Bucharest-Timisoara-Arad line. It is also used for the Security Police planes and the planes of the several departments of the government.
